

The Psychology Department's Behavior Analysis Program

Presents

Using Pairing Effectively to Increase Social Motivation

Attendees will:

- Learn how to identify potential reinforcers to use for pairing
- Learn how to effectively use pairing procedures to increase social motivation
- Learn about the benefits of increasing social motivation in young children with Autism

Presenter: Paloma Pedraza Rodriguez, Ph.D., BCBA-D

Date: Friday, April 11th

Time: 12:00 PM - 2:00 PM

Location: Modesto Maidique Campus

Room: AHC 3-Room 214

Attendance is FREE!

Seating is limited. Please go to: <http://go.fiu.edu/12f2> to pre-register for this event.

2 CEUs Available for BCBAs, BCaBAs, LMFTs, LCSWs, LMHCs, & CMSWs $15 per CEU

Seats will be reserved for pre-registered CE attendees up to 10 minutes after the start of the talk, after which they will be opened for general seating.

Paloma Pedraza Rodriguez, Ph.D., BCBA-D, earned an M.S. in Behavior Analysis from the Florida Institute of Technology in 2006, an M.S. and a Ph.D. in Psychology from FIU in 2011 and 2013 respectively. She is a Board Certified Behavior Analyst and Clinical Director for a private company specializing in applied behavior analysis services. Her areas of research include establishing social stimuli as reinforcers, early intervention, and behavioral variability.

Florida International University is a BACB ACE provider, OP-10-2020 and an approved CE provider by the Florida Board of Clinical Social Work, Marriage and Family Therapy, and Mental Health Counseling , #BAP 50-15655