Getting through the Cognitive Neuroscience Program

Year 1:

- Form D1 committee and submit D1 form (do this immediately, in consultation with advisor).
- Form Masters project committee (3 members). This can be a subset of the D1 committee. See in-house Psychology Masters forms here: https://psychology.fiu.edu/academics/degrees-and-programs/graduate-resources/index.html
- Begin Statistics sequence (Stats 1 and 2 in Fall and Spring).
- Take additional content/elective courses (6 credits in each of Fall and Spring). Enroll in Topics in Neuroscience.
- Take 6 research credits in summer. Continue for all summers.
- Begin proposal for Masters project. Ideally defend the proposal by the end of the first year.

Year 2:

- Finish statistics sequence (take Multivariate in Fall).
- Defend Masters Project by end of Year 2.
- Continue to complete course requirements.

Year 3:

- Work on and defend qualifying paper. Submit D2 form once coursework is complete, and once quals are complete. Once submitted, begin enrolling in 3 credits of PSY 7981 Ph.D. Dissertation each semester until you graduate. Plan to graduate within 5 semesters of submitting the D2.
- Complete and defend dissertation proposal. Submit D3 form. Must leave at least 3 semesters between submission of D3 and graduation.
- Ideally D2 and D3 are done in the same semester or close to it.

Year 4:

- Complete dissertation.
- Submit D5 form and defend dissertation.
